

Language Comparisons

1. Create a multilingual dictionary with the help of your documented linguistic landscape items. You can also include languages of your choice (e.g. your first language), using your linguistic knowledge and/or an online dictionary (<https://de.pons.com/>).

Example:

| English | German | Italian | Swedish | Polish | French | Turkish |
|---------|--------|---------|---------|--------|--------|---------|
| beer | Bier | birra | öl | piwo | bière | bira |

2. What do you notice? Which languages are similar and which are different?
3. Can you find examples of false friends*?

A false friend can already be found in the example above.

*False friends are words that sound or are spelled the same in two languages but have different meanings.
