The beginning

Does the podcast
introduce the speakers?
Does it give an outline
of the topic?

The speakers introduced themselves and the topic was made clear. They gave an overview of what they would talk about.

The middle

Does the speaker use
examples?
How is the listener kept
interested/entertained?

The interview was done very well. I believed that it was Olivia, who was being questioned and it was entertaining to watch. They used many fun little stories.

The end

Are the important points
summarized?

The speakers gave a short overview of the important points they made in the middle part.

Pronunciation

Did the speaker use
correct pronunciation?

Some words were not pronounced correctly:
particularly, mischievously and thorough.
Overall the pronunciation was good.

Tone of voice

How was the articulation?

I liked the way the one speaker used her articulation for representing Olivia. It sounded as if she really came from a different time. The other speaker was also well articulated and it was entertaining to listen to them.
